

MAIL CALL....

The bugler sounds cheerful "Mail Call" (I've got a letter, I've got a letter) and eager faces gather for distribution.

Deliveries are not always frequent, so they generally are large. But the post office staff and their volunteer assistants allow no delays here.

Sorted by divisions, the mail petty officers wait in line for their share.

